DETAILED ACTION

The following is a first action on the merits of application Serial No.10/671,051, filed September 24, 2003.

Drawings

Figures 1-3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g).

The drawings are further objected to because reference number 118 designates two different structures in Figs. 1 and 2. It appears that one of the reference numbers 118 should be 108.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the prior art of applicant's Figs. 1 and 2 taken in view of Tipton('882) and either Cook('987) or Schiefer et al.('859). In the prior art device a single bolt retains the fingers, but Tipton suggests providing a pair of bolts 112 to retain each finger. It would have been obvious to carry this teaching to the prior art of applicant's Figs. 1 and 2, the motivation being to provide more secure attachment of the fingers. In the prior art, the posts are spaced from the finger-retaining bolts. It is common practice in the clutch art, as well as in other fields, to provide recesses to permit close positioning of fasteners. In Cook and Schiefer et al. recesses are provided in the axial portion of the cover to accommodate attachment bolts, thus permitting the attachment flange to be of smaller radial dimensions (see the recessed area receiving bolt hole 36 in Cook and the recess for bolt hole 26 in Schiefer et al.). The edges of finger receiving slots in the prior art and in Tipton can be considered "lips", insofar as defined here.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Bell('163), Fehring('711), and Gebhart('637) show other centrifugal clutches. Schiefer et al.('333) shows recesses for bolt holes 62. Watkins et al.('562) provides recesses 43 for bolts 52. Gledhill et al.('010) shows (Fig. 8) recesses in post 49 for opening 66.
